Dear onePULSE Community,

2018 has been a year full of incredible support, growth and milestones for onePULSE Foundation. We are so grateful to all of our supporters and we owe all of our progress to you.

Without the help from visionary individuals, foundations and corporations we would not have been able to host onePULSE’s programs, grow our staff, and create a strong infrastructure to ensure we are prepared for the next big step towards achieving our mission.

We were able to host the Pulse families and survivors for both a private meal and the Two Year Remembrance Ceremony. This provided them their own space to come together to grieve and remember before the community joined in to show their love, support and respect for their loved ones and our survivors.

In addition, we were able to host two Family Day events to provide Pulse families and survivors with a gathering for bonding, fun and time to get to know one another. It is a special privilege to be a part of these days and one our staff and volunteers feel humbled to be a part of.

As we strive to serve the community, we hosted another Town Hall Forum as part of our series. This time we brought national leaders who are striving to make change in the hate conversation. It was inspiring to hear how they found their voice or action and how they have put it to use to truly affect people who are rooted in hateful rhetoric or behaviors. We also grew our CommUNITY Rainbow run and provided Orlando and virtual runners from around the globe a healthy uplifting way to honor the 49 and all the affected. This event continues to grow and bring people together just as they did June 12, 2016.

With the tireless work of the Task Force and the generous donations from so many local and national businesses, the Pulse Interim Memorial was designed, built and opened to the public on May 8. Knowing it would take years to build the permanent national memorial, it was the goal of the Task Force to take the original make-shift site and create a clean, respectful, peaceful space for everyone who visits.

As we close the 2018 fiscal year, we are excited to share with you our first independent external audited financial statements and annual 990 reports. In accordance with best practices for a nonprofit organization we selected a local audit firm and are pleased to announce our financial statements conform to all accounting standards. You can see our growth and our work towards accomplishing our mission by visiting www.onepulsefoundation.org/onepulse-foundation/.

This annual report will highlight many of the accomplishments by the staff, Task Force, Board of Trustees, committee members, and volunteers. Looking back I feel an overwhelming amount of humility from witnessing the efforts of so many who truly love their community, feel the pain and heartbreak of the affected and use their time and talents to help preserve this story so that no one who was at Pulse that horrible night will ever be erased.

From everyone in the onePULSE family, thank you for your continued support and faith in our organization. 2019 will bring the launch of the International Design Competition and a winning design concept. We are embarking on what promises to be a large urban planning project that will redefine Kaley and Orange Avenues, giving the 49 Angels, all survivors, and first responders the honor and respect they deserve forever. We must never forget that the tragedy shook all of us to our core that morning, and it will take all of us to ensure it is never forgotten. We ask for your continued input and involvement.

One Pulse,
Barbara Poma
Embodying love, hope, unity, courage and unconditional acceptance, the Interim Memorial was a step toward our vision of establishing a sanctuary of healing. With a design developed with the Task Force, it opened in May 2018. The Angels’ families were given private time to view the space before anyone else, followed by survivors and first responders. The night it opened, acclaimed cellist Yo-Yo Ma performed a moving tribute.
As the heart and soul of our organization, 160 selfless individuals donated over 700 hours of their time and energy to this cause.
Diverse organizations, coming from all corners of the nation, showed their support and paid their respects at the Interim Memorial throughout the year.

RAISING AWARENESS GROUPS

Some of the groups visiting the site this year included:

BBYO (Jewish youth leadership): 150 people

YMCA Women’s Leadership Conference: 50 people

Alix Partners: 400 people
This ongoing event series was created to help Angels’ families gather in an uplifting atmosphere, connect with one another and, ultimately, create bonds of support crucial to the healing process. It’s a mix of entertainment, food and festivities in a peaceful environment. Mental health counseling resources and other services are also available for those in need.
To hear the community’s thoughts and encourage involvement, this forum series is part of an ongoing outreach initiative.

October 2017 forum: A prestigious panel of experts discussed the process and historic importance of establishing a permanent memorial to the Pulse nightclub tragedy.

November 2018 forum: National key influencers discussed how they overcame a hateful belief system, addressed hateful messages and reached others to dispel the belief that hate is learned.

Presented by JPMorgan Chase, and sponsored by OUC, Grand Bohemian Hotel, Florida Humanities Council and WUCF, over 1,500 people participated in person and online in both of these events.
2017 Memorial Survey:
With an amazing \textbf{2,212} total respondents, this survey gave Angels’ families, survivors and first responders—plus our community and the world—an opportunity to provide valuable input on the future of the Pulse nightclub site.

2,212 \hspace{1cm} \textbf{Total Respondents}
\begin{tabular}{|l|}
\hline
\textbf{Family Members} & 41 \\
\textbf{First Responders} & 86 \\
\textbf{Survivors} & 60 \\
\textbf{General Public} & 2,025 \\

\end{tabular}

2018 Community Talks:
This five-part series held over two months, encouraged participation and offered insight into survey results, Interim Memorial design review, the community’s thoughts about the project and information on the design and construction process.
Held in June, our signature fundraising event had 2,154 participants in the run and virtual run—a 165% increase in participation over the previous year. Runners represented 15 states, with the farthest from Great Britain.

It’s a wonderful partnership with UCF’s DeVos Sport Business Management Program.

Many thanks to our presenting sponsor: Orlando Health®
Honoring the 49 Angels, more than 200 survivors and first responders, this observance brought together the Orlando community that united in response to the tragedy of June 12, 2016. At our largest ceremony yet, an estimated 2,500–3,000 people came together as a symbol of strength and solidarity in the face of tragedy, forever proving:

We will not let hate win.
Generating awareness through media coverage enables us to move forward with National Pulse Memorial & Museum fundraising and programs.
Our Ideas Generator and growth planning that was accomplished in 2018 has set the foundation and enables us to create future programs such as the Design Competition, Legacy Scholarships and Amity programs.

The Ideas Generator initiative, an open call to all who wished to participate in submitting ideas on how best to combine memory, education, inspiration, hope and respect via the means of architecture, landscape, urbanism and artistic intervention for the Memorial and Museum, provided fantastic results, ideas and direction.

We had submissions from seven states as well as eight countries including India, Iran, Italy, Japan, Korea, Norway, Puerto Rico and Turkey.
To encourage love, spark positive dialogue and help incite change across the world, some of the Interim Memorial’s most notable visitors included:

Yo-Yo Ma: performed May 2018

Sam Smith: visited July 2018

Cast of FX's show “Pose”: participated in Come out With Pride October 2018
